Stanley Opera are delighted to be bringing The Merry Widow to the Concordia for four performances in October when you can follow the efforts of Baron Zeta, the Pontevédrian Ambassador to Paris, as he tries to ensure that Anna Glavari's great wealth remains in his otherwise impoverished country by finding the young widow an ideal husband. There is no shortage of men willing to put themselves forward, but trouble looms when the only man she will countenance is the only man reluctant to marry her. Full of dazzling tunes, witty repartee and stylish costumes, Franz Lehár's comic operetta is a terrific night in the theatre. To book your tickets simply complete this form and follow the instructions below.
